Summer Fair

Lots of families joined in the fun of the fair two weeks ago. There were lots of rides for the children and book, tombola, and other stalls for adults with wonderful food prepared by our parents. We are aware that a group of parents put a huge amount of effort into ensuring the fair's success and we thank them very much. Please do it again next year! They will have been so pleased to know that their hard work and the support of those who came along raised an astounding £6,000.00

LATIN CLUB CORNER

During the Middle Ages, the Plague devastated populations in Britain. Little wonder that the phrase "Timor mortis conturbat me", meaning "The fear of death disturbs me" was used so often in poetry of the time. Even the richest and most powerful were not spared this affliction.
