Dear Parents & Carers,

We hope you are well and have settled back into online learning after a well deserved Easter break. Since coming back after the holiday we have changed the structure of the day and are now releasing all the work at 9:35am. We are doing this to ensure you are given flexibility over the structure of your day, to suit the needs of your child.

In Year 5, we have noticed that some of the children are trying to complete all their work when it is released at 9:35am and therefore the quality of some of the work that has been handed in is not of the Year 5 standard we expect. We think having a structure for the day is important for the children and still suggest, where possible, you follow the timings of the day and ensure children are taking time to complete the set work assigned- see below. We are going to help the children with this by sending them a link to an online timer, which they should use when completing work.

- See below for suggested timings for each assignment
