

SUGGESTED HOME LEARNING ACTIVITIES

Week Beginning 7/9/2020

Hello and welcome back to the new school year! We're sad you're not able to join us in school this week, but are really looking forward to seeing you back in the building very soon!

In the meantime, here are some suggested home learning activities for you for this week. These ideas are based on your recent trip to another country. Remember, these are just suggestions - feel free to come up with your own home learning ideas!

- Write a letter / postcard / diary entry - tell us about your holiday!
- Write a fact file about the country you just visited
- Draw a map of your journey to or from the place you visited - which other countries did fly over? How many hours did it take you? How many minutes is this?
- Draw images of places you visited / things you saw while on holiday
- What food did you eat when you were away? Can you design a menu for a foreign feast based on your recent trip?
- Draw a comic strip to show your classmates the most exciting thing that you encountered on your travels.
- Did you speak any other languages while you were away? Write down the translations of the words that you used most in the style of a dictionary, so that your friends can start to learn a new language too!
- Write a travel guide for one of your friends. Imagine they are going to go on holiday to the place that you have returned from. Where should they definitely go and why? Where should they avoid? What might they need to pack and why? Be sure to give them plenty of insider tips!

- Art:
- Draw/ Paint a self portrait.

Here are some more home learning suggestions and websites you can use to help you with your learning:

Reading

- Use our Reading Eggs subscription to practice your reading and comprehension skills everyday
- Write a review of the last book you read.
- Listen to a story for free on Audible: Listen here.

Writing

- Create an 'All about Me' poster- include information about yourself like your age, height, number of siblings, hobbies etc
- Write some targets that you'd like to achieve by the end of the year. These could be linked to English, maths, PE - anything you'd like to work on!

Maths

KS1 + KS2

- Interactive Resources is a great website for lots of fun Maths games that will help develop your fluency:

User name: primrose

Password: primrosehill

Ks2

- Draw a floorplan of your bedroom - can you include measurements of the walls and furniture?
- Make a timetable of your day. Show what time you start and finish each activity and how many minutes you've spent on each. Will you use AM/PM or the 24-hour clock?
-